

*Theses of the
BETTER CITIES FOR BETTER LIFE,
Prague 2014 (BCBL) conference*

The BCBL programme expresses the will and interest of the cities attending the international conference in Prague to accept the shared responsibility for the life quality of the citizens of both their own and other cities.

The BCBL programme is a new philosophy of public service.

The BCBL programme will be spread to other cities in all continents.

The BCBL delegates support the creation of Blue-Green Book, Roadmap of successful solutions, and the fact that it will be published electronically to share it with less successful cities.

The BCBL delegates support the idea of publishing pieces of information on the web page of Blue-Green Book about the coming environmental projects in their cities to present it to the leading technological companies from all over the world in order to receive the best offers.

Cities in the BCBL programme will jointly try to find both public and private financial funds to continue the integrating and co-ordinating summits of cities since 2015.

Cities in the BCBL programme will jointly try to find both public and private financial funds to put into practice successful solutions for reducing noise, air and water pollution, and waste management. This programme is very expensive and it cannot be financed only from the city budgets. Based on its global character, it is needed to support the will of the most developed countries and the biggest owners of private capital.

Implementation of joint projects of BCBL partner cities with similar or identical environmental issues will focus on improving labour efficiency of experts through a network of international expert teams.

In Prague, 13th May 2014
